

Teresa Isaac
Mayoral

1. Are you in support of, or in opposition to, continuing funding for the Purchase of Development Rights program? Why do you support or oppose funding for this program?

- Support. Our agricultural land is what gives us our identity. The PDR program will guarantee preservation of Fayette County's unique beauty for future generations, so I have kept and will keep my commitment of at least $2 million to PDR each year.

2. Do you support or oppose tax breaks and/or other incentives for infill-redevelopment projects?

- Support. We have added an Infill and Redevelopment position in the Division of Planning to further smooth the way. During my administration, downtown infill and redevelopment is booming, with 200 new residential units opened in the last 18 months, 800 more either under construction or on the drawing board and a downtown grocery on the horizon.

3. Do you feel that a higher priority should be placed on addressing and solving the sanitary sewer, storm water and water quality problems in Fayette County before there is any further expansion of development beyond the current urban services area? Why or Why not?

- We are already placing a high priority on solving those 30-to-40-year-old problems. We are preparing a 20 year plan which we expect to implement next year and which will resolve any and all issues.

4. Fayette County agri-business and agri-tourism generate over $3 billion dollars for the regional economy each year. Do you support these industries? If so, how will you promote agribusiness and agri-tourism if elected to office?

- Absolutely. I am determined to see Fayette County continue as Kentucky's #1 county for agriculture. We have worked and will continue to lobby along with farmers and agribusiness representatives to help them receive a fair shake from federal and state governments.

5. Fayette County currently has enough vacant land within the urban services area to support nine years of residential growth. Will you propose to use this available land to provide affordable housing, accessible transportation, and amenities for our growing community? If so, how?

- Of course. We are turning growth inward, encouraging pedestrian-friendly development, implementing “Aging in Place” initiatives, and helping our mass transit system be more responsive to Fayette Countians’ needs.
